THE ART GALLERY
AT ST. DAVID'S

Is proud to welcome our newest artist Sarah
Bourne Rafferty, for her exhibit titled:

CHEMISTRY + NATURE =
ART

Tuesday, February 18th—
Friday, March 27th

"I first experimented with cyanotypes and alternative process photography in college. I fell in love with the techniques. I'm drawn to the process incorporating the chemistry of photography and the tactile quality of printmaking which join to connect me more fully to the natural world."

Chemistry + Nature = Art will be introduced with a reception. All are welcome:
Friday, February 21st, 6:00-8:00pm
763 S. Valley Forge Road, Wayne PA 19087

New Artist Exhibit: Chemistry + Nature = Art

Sunday Adult Education: Being Sent Out as a Community for the World

Tuesday, February 18th-Friday, March 27th

Reception: Friday, February 21st | 5:00pm

All are welcome to attend this very unique exhibit by artist Sarah Bourne Rafferty featuring cyanotype prints. A "Cyanotype" derives from an ancient photographic process that begins by painting a light-sensitive chemical solution onto paper. Once dry, a photogram is created when the paper, holding a natural object, is exposed to the sun. For more information, contact artgallery@stdavidschurch.org, or visit the exhibit from February 18th – March 27th.

Beyond the Book Group

Wednesday, February 19th | 7:00pm |

Copies of the book are available in the Gift Shop and the book is also available on Audible for those who prefer audio. Email the Rev. Emily with questions ezimbrick-rogers@stdavidschurch.org.

Sundays, February 23rd – March 1st |

10:30am | Harrison Room

After two series on community as antidote to loneliness and how mindfulness can bring community and connections, Adult Forum turns to what is mission and how does mission relate to our identity as Christians, as a church, and as a community for the world? What is the mission of the church? How can we move from being a church on a mission to being a missional church? The Rev. Maurice Dyer will teach on World Mission Sunday (Feb. 23) with some of St. David's international partner ministries. Parishioner Anita Friday, of Open Hearts: A Pathway for Racial Healing, will teach on March 1 about the witness of the church in standing for justice and supporting the dignity of every human being.
